

VIENNA ACTIONISM MUSEUM (WAM) ON THE DEATH OF GÜNTER BRUS - "HIS WORK WILL LIVE ON AT THE WAM"

The directors and management of the Vienna Actionism Museum, which opens next March, are deeply moved by the death of Günter Brus.

"Günter Brus was the only one of the four Actionists who carried out his actions on himself. He went to his personal limits to reveal psychopathological dimensions," says WAM co-initiator and managing director Philipp Konzett.

Günter Brus' action "Self-painting" is the subject of the opening exhibition WHAT IS VIENNA ACTIONISM?. Konzett continues: "In this exhibition and in our museum, Günter Brus and his work will not only live on - they will be honored and discussed. The WAM will demonstrate the important contribution that Vienna Actionism, including Günter Brus, made to the concept of art after 1945".
